KU Transition to Postsecondary Education Program

Dana Lattin, Research Project Director at KUs Transition to Postsecondary Education (TPE) program, provided the presentation. Information on the program can be found at <http://tpe.ku.edu/>. Dana also provided the following article on the program, <https://kansasalumnimagazine.org/magazine-article/determination-to-thrive/>. The program ensures that students with intellectual disabilities (ID) have opportunities for inclusive postsecondary education at KU. Dana provided the following highlights of the program.

- KU TPE is a 2-year/4 semester program where students work towards a KU undergraduate certificate
- The program focuses on career development, student life, and academic preparation
- KU TPE is financial aid eligible for students that qualify
- There is an additional $12,000 fee per year for each student, and KU is working with Kansas Rehab Services to reduce this cost for students
- KU students volunteer to help facilitate social capital for the TPE students
- The goal is competitive integrative employment, where students work at least part-time, are paid at least minimum wage, and work alongside others who do not have intellectual disabilities
- Outcome data shows these students have an 81% completion rate, and 80% have a job after graduation

- 12% of students continue education after graduation, and many go into community colleges
- There is potential to work with Kansas institutions to create a 4-year program with community college involvement

AY 2021 Performance Reports

Sam Christy-Dangermond presented the AY 2021 Performance Reports for review, provided information on the performance funding process, and answered questions. Performance Agreement information can be found at https://www.kansasregents.org/academic_affairs/performance-agreements.

Committee members received performance reports from the following eight institutions, each being recommended to receive 100% of any new legislative funding in July 2023 for which they are eligible based on achieving at least four out of six indicators:

- Emporia State University
- Kansas State University
- Wichita State University
- Cowley Community College
- Fort Scott Community College
- Highland Community College
- Labette Community College
- Neosho County Community College

Institutional representatives provided a summary of their reports, and the Regents asked follow-up questions.

Members agreed by consensus to postpone an official vote until after the new Regents on BAASC have been confirmed by the Kansas Legislature.

Adjournment

The next BAASC meeting is scheduled for September 14, 2022, at 11:00 a.m. With no further discussion, the meeting adjourned by consensus at 10:30 a.m.
