Report from System Council of Chief Academic Officers

Mickey McCloud, Executive Vice President and Provost, Johnson County Community College

- The 2025 KCOG Conference is scheduled for October 10; registration deadline is September 26.
- Discussion included reduced-credit baccalaureate degrees and the need for a task force to develop policy recommendations for the Board of Regents.
- Sam Christy-Dangermond provided an update on the HonorLock Online Proctoring Services contract, which expires in November. Institutions interested in joining a state consortium should contact KBOR staff.

Discussion on Reduced-Credit Bachelor's Programs

Blake Flanders, President and CEO

- Concerns were raised regarding proposed changes to degree credit requirements.
- Extensive feedback from institutions and faculty is needed before implementing significant policy changes.
- KBOR will form a task force to study reduced-credit baccalaureate degrees and develop policy recommendations.
- Emphasis was placed on outcomes-based education, prior learning assessment, and redefining general education requirements.

Board Budget Request

Blake Flanders, President and CEO

- Discussion focused on the upcoming budget request.
- Concerns were raised about the size of some items and the need for effective advocacy by government relations officers.
- Despite strong revenues, a gap between expenditures and reserves presents challenges.
- The Board emphasized partnership with the state and acknowledged that some requests—such as program revamping and energy initiatives—will require significant state general fund support.

Adjournment

The meeting was adjourned at 10:45 a.m. by President Muma, seconded by President Nichols.
