GATEWAY MATH COURSE DECISIONS

What are Gateway Math Courses?

Gateway math courses form a conceptual framework designed to offer diverse and equitable pathways in mathematics education for students. Unlike the traditional one-size-fits-all approach, gateway math courses recognize that students have varied goals, interests, and strengths. This framework aims to provide a range of learning experiences aligned with students' future aspirations, whether academic, vocational, or technical. By catering to different learning styles and career objectives, this approach not only enhances student engagement but also increases the likelihood of success in both academic and real-world settings.

To that end, public post-secondary institutions in Kansas will offer up to three gateway math courses, giving programs greater flexibility in selecting a math course that aligns with the needs of students. (Institutions are only required to offer the gateway math courses that apply to programs on their campuses.)

These three courses are:

- Elementary Statistics
- Contemporary Math
- College Algebra*

How were the decisions made?

The following files contain the gateway math courses by program for each institution. These decisions were made by faculty members from various disciplines who gathered from across the state to discuss the different gateway math courses, review the learning outcomes for each, and select the course that best fits the needs of their students. Chief Academic Officers (CAOs) have confirmed these decisions.

Primary Population of Students

Graduates from Kansas public undergraduate degree programs, enrolled during the most recent two academic years, who were classified as Kansas residents for tuition purposes. Residency for tuition purposes is further defined by K.S.A. 76-729 for state universities, and K.S.A. 71-406 and K.S.A. 71-407 for community colleges. (Technical colleges do not have residency requirements outlined in statute.)

Degree Program Combinations

In order to preserve statistical reliability standards in cases where there are small numbers of graduates from some degree programs, up to five years of data for graduates from the two most recent years are included in this tool. In some cases, when there exist few graduates in a given degree program, it was necessary to combine degree programs with others from the same family or discipline using the national NCES CIP standard classification system. In these cases, the actual degree program title is displayed in the search feature and the resulting page may display calculated amounts indicative of a program family combination. In this situation, a note to indicate that related degree programs were combined will be displayed at the bottom of the resulting page.

Annual Cost of Degree

For each category, the median value of graduates' annualized averages, CPI adjusted to current dollars, as reported by each institution in the KHEDS Student Costs file for that degree program or related degree program graduates.

Tuition: The tuition amount divided by the number of credit hours enrolled multiplied times 30 to calculate a full-time annual rate $[(SC.TUITION / RG.SEC_HRS) * 30]$.

Fees: The instructional and required fees amount divided by the number of credit hours enrolled multiplied times 30 $[((SC.IFEE+SC.RFEE) / RG.SEC_HRS) * 30]$.

Books and Supplies: The amount of books and supplies divided by the number of credit hours enrolled multiplied times 30 $[(SC.BOOKS / RG.SEC_HRS) * 30]$.

Room and Board: The amount of room and board divided by the number of months enrolled times 10 $[((SC.ROOM+SC.BOARD) / TOTAL_MONTHS) * 10]$.

Total Annual Cost (estimated): Sum of the Individual Values Tuition, Fees, Books and Supplies, Room and Board.

Estimated Cost: The estimated cost of the degree over time, based on the Total Annual Cost * the Number of Years displayed, which has been adjusted for inflation using a rate of CPI + 2%, currently $4.7\% + 0.02 = 6.7\%$.

Number of Years: The Number of Years for two-year preparatory programs has been defaulted to "two." For four-year degree programs, the number of years is calculated as the median of the credit hours associated with the final degree plus any transfer credit hours divided by 30 as reported in the KHEDS Completions and Transfers files of degree program or related degree program graduates $[(CM.FINAL_GPA_CREDIT_HRS - CM.TRANS_UG_CREDIT_HRS_GPA + TR.TRANS_UG_CREDIT_HRS) / 30]$.

Annual Source of Investment

For each category, the median value of graduates' annualized averages, CPI adjusted to current dollars, as reported by each institution in the KHEDS Student Financing file for that degree program or related degree program graduates disbursed each type of aid.

Scholarships and Grants: The median dollar value of scholarships and grants disbursed to graduates of the program divided by the number of credit hours enrolled multiplied times 30 $[(SF.DSB_AMT/RG.SEC_HRS) * 30]$ where F_TYPE in ('S' 'R' 'V' 'G'). Includes Waivers and Tuition Reductions.

Loans: The median dollar value of loans disbursed to graduates of the program divided by the number of months enrolled times 10 $[(SF.DSB_AMT / TOTAL_MONTHS) * 10]$ where F_TYPE = 'L' and F_AWARD \neq 'PLUS'. Excludes Parent Loans.

Other Funding Sources: This is an input field added to ensure flexibility for inclusion of other sources of investment as expected by the user. Dollars entered reduces personal investment displayed.

Personal Investment: Total annual cost minus Scholarships and Grants, Loans, and Other Funding Sources. Negative values are converted to zero.

Total Annual Investment from All Sources: The sum of Scholarships and Grants, Loans, Other Funding Sources, and Personal Investment.
